General Appraisal of Velocities of the Permian Basin of Northern Europe, including the North Sea. S. M. Wyrobek 1
The Application of Computer Techniques to Exploration for Oil and Gas. P. Podmaroff. . . . 14
Gravity Surveying at Sea. B. C. Browne 22
The Modulus and Poisson's Ratio of Asphalt Mixes. F. H. Hills and W. Heukelom 27
The Development of a Pumpability Test for Fuel Oils, Work of IP Panel ST-B-5 Leading to the Adoption of IP Method 230/69 36
Analysis of Liquid Petroleum Gas by Gas Chromatography. Proposed IP Standard Method . . 48
Analysis of C_6 to C_8 Aromatic Traces in Light Saturated Hydrocarbons by Gas Chromatography. Proposed IP Standard Method 51
Correspondence: Detection and Control of Processing Plant Losses. P. Dribbell 56
Obituaries: Graham F. S. Murray, John Crandon Gridley, Oswald Guy Spence Pacey 58
Book Reviews (see separate index) 60
Manpower in the Oil Industry. P. G. Hall 63
The Whittle Turbodrill. G. H. Ratcliffe 71
Vanadium Complexes and Porphyrins in Asphaltenes. Teh Fu Yen, L. J. Boucher, John P. Dickie, Edmund C. Tynan, and George B. Vaughan 87
The Mechanical Shear Stability of Polymeric VI Improvers. I. R. H. Crail and A. L. Neville . . 100
Introductory Note to "On the Evaluation of Mechanical Properties of Hydraulic Oils". Chairman, IP Mechanical Tests of Lubricants Panel 109
On the Evaluation of Mechanical Properties of Hydraulic Oils. Remi Renard and Alain Dalibert . 110
The Use of Digital Computers in Reservoir Engineering. K. R. Keep 117
Emulsion Stability of Soluble Cutting Oils. IP Cutting Oils Panel ST-C-5 122
Additions to the Library 128
Recent Advances and New Thresholds in Petroleum Technology. The Hon. Sir Maurice Bridgeman 131
Well Spacing in the North Sea Gas Fields. A. D. Cronen 141
Calculation of the Reid Vapour Pressure of Motor Gasolines and Aviation Fuels from Distillation Data. Gilbert I. Jenkins and Margaret M. White 153
Low Speed Knock in Motor Gasolines. Routine Quality Control Using the Gasoline Composition. Gilbert I. Jenkins 166
Extraction of Naphthalenes from Middle Distillates. M. A. Read, B. H. Mahmoud, M. Y. Hafiz, and I. K. Abdou 168
The Effect of Thermal Treatment on the Properties of Petroleum Coke. M. Arafa. 174
Biological Aspects of Oil Pollution. Bryan L. Sage 178
Obituary: Barend Hendrik Moerbeek 182
Book Reviews (see separate index) 183
Additions to the Library 184
The Institute in the 1970s. A. W. Pearce 189
Symposium on Lubricants for Automotive Engines—Some Aspects of their Chemistry and Physics
Opening Address. A. W. Pearce 193
How Crankcase Oil Additives Function. G. P. Wood 194
Viscosity and Engine Performance. R. Hollinghurst and A. Singleton 205
Evaluation of Anti-oxidants for Automotive Lubricants Using the Rotary Bomb. J. S. Elliott, G. J. J. Jayne, and R. I. Barber 219
The Effect of Diesel Lubricant Detergent Additives on Piston Ring Wear. B. A. Cook . . 227
The Effect of Metal-containing Detergents on Low-medium Temperature Dispersancy Properties of Lubricants as Assessed by the BP Bench Dispersancy Test. E. S. Forbes and J. M. Wood 237
Emulsion Formation in Gasoline Engines. E. Berry and A. B. Webster 245
Dispersancy in Diesel Lubricants—A Study with Particular Reference to Oil Thickening Due to Insolubles Accumulation. G. J. Parsons 256
Institute of Petroleum Annual Reports and Accounts 277

SUBJECT INDEX

The numbers refer to page numbers

Additives, detergent, diesel lubricants and piston ring wear, 227–36
Additives, metallic, BP dispersancy test, 237–44
Analysis, C_6–C_8 aromatic traces, light saturated hydrocarbons by gas chromatography, 51–5
Analysis, LPG, gas chromatography, 48–50
Anti-oxidant evaluation, lubricants, 219–26
Aromatic traces, light saturated hydrocarbons, analysis by gas chromatography, 51–5
Asphalt mixes, Young's modulus and Poisson's ratio, 27–35
Asphaltenes and vanadium complexes, 87–99
Automobile lubricants, anti-oxidant evaluation, 219–26
Automotive lubricants, chemistry, 193–204
Aviation fuel RVP calculation from distillation data, 153–65
Aviation turbine fuel, determination of ethylene glycol monomethyl ether, 418–21

Basin, northern Europe, velocity appraisal, 1–13
Biological aspects of oil pollution, 178–81
Bitumen behaviour, asphaltic, chart for temperature effect, 404–17
Blending indices, linear, petroleum products, 322–9
Bomb, rotary, anti-oxidant evaluation, 219–26
BP bench lubricant dispersancy test, 237–44

CEN and European standards, 353–8
Chemistry of automotive lubricants, 193–204
Chromatography, gas, analysis of C_6–C_8 aromatic traces in light saturated hydrocarbons, 51–5
Chromatography, gas, LPG analysis, 48–50
Coke, petroleum, thermal treatment effect, 174–7
Committee D-2 and European standardization, 359–62
Computer techniques, exploration, 14–21
Computers, digital, reservoir engineering, 117–22
Cutting oils, soluble, emulsion stability, 123–6

Detergent additives, diesel lubricants, piston ring wear, 227–36
Diesel lubricant detergent additives, piston ring wear, 227–36
Diesel lubricants, dispersancy and oil thickening, 256–72
Dispersancy test, BP, metallic additives, 237–64
Distillates, middle, naphthalene extraction, 168–73

Emulsion formation, gasoline engines, 245–55
Emulsion stability, soluble cutting oils, 123–6
Engine performance and viscosity, 205–18
Engine performance tests, developmental, 372–6
Engines, gasoline, emulsion formation, 245–55
Engine screening test, trunk piston diesel lubricants, 388–403
Ethylene glycol monomethyl ether, determination in aviation turbine fuel, 418–21
European Standards Co-ordinating Committee, 353–8
European standardization and Committee D-2, 359–62
Exploration and computer techniques, 14–21

Flammability, need for international standard, 380–7
Fuel oil combustion, flue gas recirculation influence. 1. Literature survey, 303–10. 2. Experimental, 311–21
Fuel oils, IP pumpability test, 36–47

Gas chromatography, aromatics, C_6–C_8, traces in light saturated hydrocarbons, 51–5
Gas chromatography, LPG analysis, 48–50
Gasfields, North Sea, well spacing, 141–52
Gasoline, motor, low speed knock, quality control from composition, 166–7
Gasoline, motor, RVP calculation from distillation data, 153–65
Gravity surveying at sea, 22–6

Hydraulic oils, mechanical properties, evaluation, 109–16

Industry, oil, manpower, 63–70
Institute of Petroleum 1968 report and accounts, 277–95
Institute of Petroleum in the 1970s, 189–92
Institute of Petroleum officers and council, 273–6
Institute of Petroleum standardization: change in Part 1, Section 2, thermometer stems, 296
  cutting oils panel, 123–6
  fuel oil pumpability, 36–47
  lubricants, mechanical tests, 109

Jet fuels, kerosine type, combustion properties, 330–7

Kerosine type jet fuels, combustion properties, 330–7
Knock, low speed, gasoline quality, control from composition, 166–7

Library, IP, additions, 128–9, 184–7, 350–2, 429
Losses, process plants, detection and control (Correspondence), 56–7
LPG analysis, gas chromatography, 48–50
Lubricant performance tests, development, 372–6
Lubricants, automobile, anti-oxidant evaluation, 219–26
Lubricants, automotive, chemistry and physics, 193–204
Lubricants, diesel, detergent additives and piston ring wear, 219–26
Lubricants, diesel, dispersancy and oil thickening, 256–72
Lubricants, engine screening test, trunk piston diesels on heavy fuel, 388–403
Lubricants, infra-red determination of 2,6-di-tert-butyl p-cresol, solvent effects, 343–6
Lubricants, IP mechanical tests panel, 109
Lubricants, metallic additives, dispersancy test, 237–44

Manpower, oil industry, 63–70
Measurement practices, U.S. standardization programme, 369–71
Method Evaluation Sub-Committee ST-L report on jet fuel combustion, 330–7
Metrication standardization, ASTM-API-IP, 377–9
Modulus, Young's, and Poisson's ratio of asphalt mixes, 27–35

Naphthalene extraction from middle distillates, 168–73
North Sea gasfields, well spacing, 141–52
North Sea Permian Basin velocity appraisal, 1–13

Porphyrins in asphaltenes, 87–99
Process plant loss detection and control (Correspondence), 56–7
Pumpability test for fuel oils, IP, 36–47

Reservoir engineering, use of digital computers, 117–22
Residue, petroleum, upgrading, 338–42
RVP calculation, motor and aviation fuel, from distillation data, 153–65

Sea, gravity surveying at, 22–6
Shear stability, mechanical, VI improvers, 100–8
Spacing, well, North Sea gasfields, 141–52
Standardization, measurement practices, U.S. programme, 369–71
Standardization, metrication, ASTM-API-IP, 377–9
Surveying, gravity, at sea, 22–6

Technology, petroleum, advances and thresholds, 131–40
Thermal treatment of petroleum coke, effect, 174–7
Thickening in diesel lubricants, insolubles and dispersancy, 256–72
Turbodrill, Whittle, 71–86

Vanadium complexes in asphaltenes, 87–99
Velocity appraisal of northern Europe Permian Basin, 1–13
VI improvers and mechanical shear stability, 100–8
Viscosity and engine performance, 205–18
Well spacing, North Sea gasfields, 141–52
Whittle turbodrill, 71–86
Young's modulus and asphalt mixes, 27–35
